Located New South Wales, Australia

Daisy Claridge is a self-taught artist from the southern highlands of NSW, Australia and she specialises in fine detail pen and ink work. Recently she has developed her skills to include pastel, acrylic and mixed media. Utterly in awe of nature, she is passionate about preserving it realistically in her work and believes all wildlife artists are in a position to raise public awareness of the many important conservation issues we face today.

Daisy sells signed, limited edition giclee prints of all of her artwork in issues of no more than 25. They are on either fine art paper or stretched canvas, in any size.
