

Daryl Dickson

Website: www.wildcardart.com.au

Email: wildcard@wildcardart.com.au

Located in northern Queensland, Australia

Telephone 61 07 40660232

My two great passions in life are wildlife and art. My husband and I care for wildlife and spend much of our time working towards community awareness, education and conservation. I am so fortunate to have close contact with some of north Queensland's rarest and most endangered species. Our home in the Kennedy Valley, tropical far north Queensland, is shared with an amazing diversity of unique flora and fauna providing endless inspiration, interest and colour.

I hope my work shares some of the beauty and uniqueness of our precious Australian flora and fauna with others, in the hope that we will care for it and conserve it for generations to come.

Puggle II, a Young Echidna, graphite drawing

During November 2008 Daryl was awarded the prestigious Wet Tropics Cassowary Award for Art citing her fine art & work in wildlife rehabilitation. The cassowary Awards recognize outstanding service and dedication to the conservation and presentation of the Wet Tropics World Heritage Area.

Membership

Wildlife Art Society of Australasia

