For over 30 years, I've been painting Australian scenes – from tranquil rural landscapes to native flora and fauna. Using oils, acrylics, charcoal and pastels, I paint in a variety of mediums and enjoy exploring different textures and brushwork techniques.

My work captures a sense of movement and action. Inspired by nature, my paintings often feature vivid moments like birds exploding into flight, or dogs splashing through water - many of which are based on my own photography.

'Take Off'

I love telling stories through art to capture form and movement using oils on canvas.
