Lynette Orzlowski was born in Melbourne Australia.

Since early childhood living in rural Victoria, her passion for art and nature was very apparent . As a child she loved to collect books about animals, especially horses and most of her time was spent riding with her beloved Anglo Arab horse.

Lynette has experimented with a variety of mediums and styles with most of her recent work created with a mixture of brush, airbrush and now pastel.

She enjoys painting a wide variety of wildlife subjects, however, wild candid and or posed, equine subjects are the ones that hold a special meaning in her heart and they have been a recurring theme in her art since childhood. She feels that it has always been her true calling in life.

Lynette has had no formal training and is a self-taught artist. Her artwork is detailed and aims to bring the viewer an up close, intimate look at the subject.

She hopes to inspire the world through her depictions of the natural beauty around us.

Lynette is currently at the beginning of her career as an equine artist but has already begun to build a niche for herself in the field. She recently was accepted to exhibit her work at 2014 Equine and WildArt Exhibition in Seymour, Victoria.
